TAYOVAN TRIO

Hannah Hsu, violin; Te-Fen Cheng, clarinet; Shih-Wen Chiu, piano.

Tayovan Trio draws its name from the Indigenous Siraya people of Taiwan, who called the area “Tayouan,” meaning “that piece of land,” a word that later evolved into the name Taiwan itself. Formed by three Taiwanese musicians, the Tayovan Trio is actively engaged in orchestral, wind band, and chamber music. They bring diverse musical voices into a unified artistic vision while fostering cross-cultural dialogue through chamber music.
